Javy W. Galindo, B.S., M.Eng., is a self-proclaimed creative dimwit who has a tendency to over-exaggerate. This former engineer & music teacher has over 13 years of experience providing creative consultation in many fields, and is the author of the soon to be released book: The Power of Thinking Differently. He is also co-founder of My Hyena Inc., a company devoted to spreading the healing power of humor.

When he's not speaking on creativity, Javy can be found singing at a jazz club, performing bad theater improv, writing a comedy sketch, struggling to run on an uphill trail, or practicing his hog calls.
